GRAND LODGE I. O. G. T.

THIRD DAY—MORNING SESSION.

ALBANY, June 12, 1873.

Grand Lodge met at 8½ o'clock A. M., pursuant to adjournment, Tillman Ford, G. W. C. T., presiding.

Journal of previous days' sessions read and approved.

The Finance Committee brought in the following report, which was read and adopted:

Your Committee, after hearing Mr. Van Cleve's statement in regard to his claim on this Grand Lodge, for publication of extra copies of the Good Templar, believe it to be unauthorized by the Grand Lodge, but for the sake of harmony, and to save you future trouble, would recommend that there be an order drawn on the Treasurer for the amount claimed, $58.

Committee on Ordinances reported H. Davie, R. W. C. T of No. 74, entitled to G. L. degree, which was conferred.

Committee on Constitution brought in their report, adopted By Laws for subordinate lodges, as published in uniform Constitution by the R. W. G. L.

Also, the printing of a new edition of the Constitution and By-Laws for subordinate lodges, and that the number of copies to be printed to be left to the discretion of the Grand Secretary.

Also, the following By-Laws for the Grand Lodge:

"No subordinate lodge shall be entitled to representation in this Grand Lodge which has not reported and paid all Grand Lodge dues for the quarter preceding the session of the Grand Lodge, and that no lodge shall be entitled to a vote in this Grand Lodge unless its duly elected Representative or delegates are present."

Which was adopted.

The same committee also brought in the following report, which was read and adopted:

Your Committee on Constitution, to whom was referred the appeal from Capital Lodge, would respectfully report as follows:

WHEREAS, Although we think Article III., Section 2, of the subordinate Constitution is very plain on that point, we would offer the following:

Resolved, That a dispensation should be asked for, immediately after the proposition for membership has been referred to a committee of investigation.

The special committee on political action brought in their report, which was read, amended and adopted, as follows:

That a committee be appointed, consisting of Tilman Ford, W. R. Dunbar and N. Martin, whose duty shall be similar to the committee appointed at the Grand Lodge session of 1872, and to act in conjunction with the State Temperance Union Alliance, and all other temperance societies

That they circulate in the several counties of the State petitions to the Legislative Assembly, praying that all laws licensing the sale of intoxicating liquors in the State be repealed, and in lieu thereof that a just and binding law be passed prohibiting their sale as a beverage forever in the State of Oregon, and that the committee be instructed to draft and present to the next Legislature for the enactment of a stringent prohibitory law, and that the stringent features of the late Indiana law, so far as applicable, be incorporated in such law.

The unwritten work of the Order was then exemplified by A. A. Bonney, P. G. Counselor.

The committee on resolutions brought in their report, which was read and adopted, as follows:

Resolved, That we hereby express our thanks and fraternal regards to our brother, Jacob Conser, for his earnest, faithful and impartial labors in behalf of the Order during his term of office as G. W. C. T., and as he retires from that post of duty we do assure him of our appreciation of his efforts, and hope that his future may be equally useful and full of good deeds.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Grand Lodge be and are hereby extended to the Oregon and California Railroad Company, the Oregon Central Railroad Company, the Oregon Steam Navigation Company and the Oregon Steamship Company for their liberality to the Representatives at this Grand Lodge in the reduction of fare charged such Representatives.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Grand Lodge are hereby extended to the officers and members of Albany Lodge No. 4, I. O. O. F., for the use of their comfortable and commodious hall during the 10th session of the Grand Lodge, and to the citizens of Albany for their hospitality to our Representatives.

Resolved, That the Grand Secretary be and he is hereby authorized to have five hundred copies of the proceedings of this session of the Grand Lodge printed, and that a copy be furnished to each Representative; the remainder to be distributed among the subordinate lodges.

Resolved, That as Good Templars and friends and co workers in the good and noble cause of temperance in the State of Oregon, and that we, who are by the law of our land invested with the elective franchise at the ballot box, will only support for position, office and trust, men who are known to be temperate in the strictest sense, and that we will not, under any circumstances whatever, support men of intemperate habits, though they be nominated by our respective political organizations, and thereby avoid in the future of our country the degradation, shame, and all the horrors resulting from a nation of people reeling to and fro in their revelries after the intoxicating bowl.

[The last resolution was adopted by a rising vote.]

The Finance Committee reported that they found the reports of the Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer correct, and reported the estimated expenses for the current year to be $2,553.

The Grand Lodge adjourned to meet again at 1½ o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Grand Lodge met pursuant to adjournment G. W. C. T., Tilmon Ford, in the Chair.

The following resolutions were read and adopted:

Resolved, That this Grand Lodge pay Bro. Jacob Conser $50 to reimburse him for moneys actually paid out by him as traveling and incidental expenses when on business for the Grand Lodge.

Resolved, That this Grand Lodge elect delegates to attend the meeting of the State Temperance Union to be held in this city to-morrow to represent this body.

Resolved, That three members of this Grand Lodge be elected to visit and extend the fraternal greetings and regards of this Grand Lodge to the Grand Lodge of Washington Territory.

Resolved, That the Executive Committee be and are hereby instructed to consider any and all propositions laid before the Committee on Grand Lodge Organ, provided that the said Executive Committee fail to negotiate with Bro. Munson.

Committee on State of the Order brought in their report, which was read and adopted, as follows:

We, your committee on "State of the Order," would respectfully submit the following for your consideration:

Resolved, That the Committee on State of the Order recommend that Bro Leland be employed as Grand Lodge Lecturer for the coming year, and that he be kept in the field constantly if the finances of this Grand Lodge will permit it: but that the G. W. C. T. and Executive Committee should have discretionary power to place several lecturers in the field during the season most favorable to accomplishing the greatest amount of work instead of keeping one lecturer constantly at work in case there is only a limited amount of funds and they should deem it advisable for this purpose. We would suggest that the "State of the Order" would be greatly improved if more attention were paid to taking and circulating temperance literature. Especially would we recommend the excellence of the National Temperance Advocate and Journal, together with many temperance books, tracts and pamphlets published by the National Temperance Publishing Association. Great good may be accomplished by using this agency. Especially would we recommend the subordinate Lodges to subscribe for and extend the circulation of the Organ, which has been recommended as our organ, published at Olympia, Washington Territory, by J. H. Underwood. This paper has stood the test for five years, and is the only paper devoted to the cause of temperance north of California.

In conclusion, your committee urgently entreat the members of our Lodges to stand by their organizations. On a few faithful men and women in each of our Lodges depends the final triumph of the cause of temperance in our fair young State.

E. W. Ryan and William Harmon were elected Representatives to the Right Worthy Grand Lodge, and W. R. Dunbar and J. D. Locey as Alternates.

The following persons were elected delegates to the State Temperance Union: J. W. Watts, E. C. Griffin, David Underwood, Annie Underwood, M. M. Miller, M. S. Louper, Asa Shrove and C. L. Watts.

The following persons were chosen to carry the fraternal greetings and regards of this Grand Lodge to the Grand Lodge of Washington Territory: W. H. Lewis, W. R. Dunbar and Levi Leland.

The following brothers were elected to represent the Grand Lodge in the State Temperance Alliance: M. M. Miller, J. D. Locey, E. S. Eastham, Jacob Conser.

The following resolution was adopted:

That it is the decision of this Grand Lodge that a clearance card can only be granted by vote of the Lodge.

The committee to whom was referred the published misstatements and slanders of A. C. McDougal brought in their report, recommending that a correct statement of the facts in the case be published under the authority of the Grand Lodge.

The following was read and adopted:

WHEREAS, The bill prepared in response to the petitions of the citizens of the United States respecting the prohibiting of the manufacture and sale of all intoxicating liquors as a beverage within the United States, the Territories and the District of Columbia, and presented to the last session of Congress, having only passed to a second reading and failed to come up for final action for want of time on account of the adjournment of that body; and

WHEREAS, The citizens of the United State are again called upon to circulate petitions for presentation to the next session of Congress; therefore

Resolved, That we will do all in our power to circulate and forward the same.

The following was read and adopted:

Resolved, That a copy of the report of the Committee to whom referred the misstatements be furnished to the Pacific Christian Advocate and San Francisco Methodist.

Grand Lodge adjourned until 8 o'clock P. M.

EVENING SESSION.

Grand Lodge met pursuant to adjournment.

Various questions on law and usage were asked and decided by the Grand Lodge.

The G. W. C. T. announced the appointment of the following standing committees:

G. L. of Oregon—E. S. Eastham, J. L. Johnson, M. S. Wilmot, Flora Stan, Julia Clarke.

Credentials—James A. Smith, J. W. Blackwell, E. E. McKinny, S. W. Leamon, Callie Thurman.

Appeals—J. D. Locey, C. W. Scriber, D. E. Underwood, Asa Shreve, Ella O'Donal.

State of the Order—J. B. Garrison, W. S. McMoen, Eva L. Woodcock, C. H. Walker, C. C. Grimes.

On Finance—A. G. Walling, C. W. Drake, G. R. F. Swain, N. Wright, E. F. Harry.

Constitution—A. M. Smith, J. C. Spencer, J. W. Waydelich, B. F. Ramp, C. E. Watts, R. Fox, G. L. Messinger.

The thanks of the Grand Lodge was extended to Bro. R. Fox for his efficient service as Janiter and Messenger during the sessions of the Grand Lodge.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That a copy of the report of the Committee on Political Action be sent by the Grand Worthy Secretary to the Secretary of the State Temperance Union.

After a very pleasant hour spent under the "Good of the Order" the Ninth Annual Session of the Grand Lodge was closed with the impressive ceremonies of the Grand Lodge Degree, to assemble again on the second Tuesday in June, 1874, in the city of Eugene

STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Fourth Session—Second Day.

SALEM, June 11, 1873.

The Convention met at the appointed time. Half an hour spent in devotional services, led by Rev. W. R. Butcher.

Reports from Jefferson, Brownsville and South Salem Methodist Sunday Schools were received.

PLACE OF NEXT MEETING.

The First Congregational Church in Portland was selected for the place of holding the next session of the Convention.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

E. J. Northrup, General E. R. Babbitt, Dr. J. G. Glenn, Major H. M. Robert and William Wadhams were elected an Executive Committee to arrange for the next annual meeting.

VICE PRESIDENTS CHOSEN.

The following Vice Presidents were chosen: Rev. Mr. Williams, for Josephine and Jackson counties; A. R. Flint, for Douglas county; J. A. Winters, for Lane county; J. W. Williams, for Benton county; G. W. Gray, for Linn county; W. H. Teal, for Polk county; J. D. Robb, for Yamhill county; J. A. McCrum, for Clackamas county; C. H. Walker, for Washington county; H. L. Northrup, Multnomah county; S. W. Wydelich, Clatsop county; Clark Bewley, Tillamook county; Samuel Brooks, Wasco county; C. D. Locey, Baker county; Judge Skinner, Coos and Curry counties; A. G. Cook, Vancouver; E. F. Boynton, Olympia; Rev. Mr. Rea, Port Townsend; A. McCauley, Walla Walla; B. B. Freeland, Seattle.

DISTRIBUTION OF BLANKS.

Executive Committee instructed to prepare blanks and send to the different Sunday Schools (by the hands of the Vice Presidents), and also to each minister in the State—the names of different Sunday Schools to be obtained from ministers of different denominations.

Dr. Atkinson reported the Congregational Sunday School of Oregon City.

E. J. Northrup stated that there was about $60 in the treasury.

PUBLICATION OF THE MINUTES.

The Executive Committee were instructed to publish the minutes of this Convention in the Pacific Christian Advocate and send copies to each Superintendent in the State.

M. G. Royal proceeded to illustrate the question, "How to teach an infant class." His remarks were practical and to the point.

Dr. Atkinson took up the subject of Sunday School literature, in which he presented the excellencies, defects and tendencies of Sunday School literature.

The above subjects were discussed by various members present.

The Convention adjourned until afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Opened with prayer by Rev. S. Bowers, Judge Terry in Chair.

C. H. Hall presented the subject assigned him, "How to teach a Bible class." The subject was ably considered, and spoken to by Gen. Babbitt, Mr. P. H. Hatch, Rev. Mr. Butcher, Mr. Foster and R. Reid.

Rev. S. Bowers presented the subject, "How to conduct a Sunday School." The speaker said no precise system could be adopted. It must be conducted to some extent by surrounding circumstances. Mr B. then proceeded to give the manner of conducting his school, which was attentively listened to by the Convention. The subject was spoken to by Rev. A. Jones, Rev. Mr. Batcher, Mr. Teal, Rev. Mr. Ellis, Gen. Babbitt and others.

The Convention resolved to open question drawer at 8 P. M., and that Rev. S. Bowers be requested to take charge of said matter and answer questions proposed relating to Sunday Schools.

E. J. Northrup was elected Treasurer.

The Convention adjourned to 8 o'clock P. M.

NIGHT SESSION.

Convention met at the appointed hour. Judge Terry presiding.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Butcher.

THE QUESTION DRAWER.

Rev. S. Bowers answered the following questions:

"Is there any Holy Ghost now? If so, can He be received, and how and when?"

Answer—There is, and He can be received with the heart, and is so received in regeneration.

"What shall be done with those who come to the Sunday School from time to time as mere lookers-on, refusing to participate in the exercises, and disregard the regulations of the school?"

Answer—If their presence interferes with the efficiency of the school they should be invited to remain away.

"What is the exact relation of the Sunday School to the church?"

Answer—So far as it is composed of justified persons it must be considered a part and parcel of the church. Christ's church is composed of those who sustain a justified relation to Him, and the Sunday School is a department of Christian enterprise of the church. I do not know how to separate the Sunday School from the church.

"Should question books and papers be used in Sabbath Schools?"

Answer—I should prefer leaving them at home. Study, but do not take them to school. All we need or should have in the Sunday School is the Bible, so far as the lesson is concerned.

"Are delegates from Sunday Schools entitled to seats in the State Temperance Union?"

No, unless they "enjoin temperance as a rule of faith and practice."

"What should be done with teachers who refuse to attend the other services of the Church?"

Answer—Labor with them to set an example of systematic Church attendance before their scholars; but if they still refuse, dismiss them and appoint better people in their place, or put two classes into one.

"Would you employ unconverted teachers?"

Answer—Not as a rule; but if you can't get converted ones, take such as you can, rather than have no school, and then labor for their conversion.

"What is the Pastor's work in the school?"

Answer—He should attend whenever practicable—always when not providentially detained—and be considered general overseer. As a rule, he should not be Superintendent or teacher of a class, but an assistant of the Superintendent.

Quite a number of other questions were asked by members present, and answered by Mr. Bowers, but space forbids a report in to-day's paper.

The Presumptions of the Ring.

The Holladay-Mitchell ring, with a ticket got up as a bolt against the Republican party, are howling and continually warning persons of the Republican party to preserve their organization; with a candidate for Mayor who is himself a Democrat they affect to be shocked at the idea of anything but a Republican being elected to office; with a large number of Chinese now in their employ doing, not menial work, but work that white men were always accustomed to do till the ring displaced them with Chinamen, they are endeavoring to humbug the working men of the city into believing they are opposed to the employment of Chinese labor; with a huge grab already developed and an immense one known to be in contemplation, besides the Lord knows how, many still concealed, they admonish the taxpayers against grabs out of the City Treasury; with a most merciless and soulless capitalist and monopolist for their head and patron, they declare against capitalists; with no less than two or three persons among them who have committed high crimes, and are now going through community under assumed names, and at least two who have been defaulters to a large amount, they are sounding the integrity of men who have been useful and honorable members of society here ever since long before their accusers came to be, to hide from those who know of their dirty acts.

This is ring politics. This is what the Republicans of Portland are asked to endorse and sustain by their votes. It remains to see whether these presumptious demagogues and cheats have not misjudged the people of Portland. We opine that when the ballot is spread next Monday evening, it will be found that the Republicans of Portland are not to be polished into supporting such men in pursuing such a course.

The Consistency of the Ring.

Last year the Bulletin opposed the regular Republican ticket in East Portland. Its owner, Mr. Holladay, had men brought down from the car shops and the depot and docks, and voted that ticket. The majority against the regular Republican ticket was smaller than the number of votes thus controlled to defeat the Republican party, thus showing conclusively that the defeat of the Republican candidates was due to the railway ring alone. This year, the Bulletin, while professing to be solely solicitous for the unity and success of the Republican party, is opposing the regular Republican ticket in East Portland. If it is so very important that the Republicans put a party ticket in Portland, why is it not important that the same thing be done in East Portland? Is not the Republican party worthy of support in East Portland as in the city? Is it not apparent that the Bulletin is simply in favor of only such Republican candidates as are nominated by the Holladay-Mitchell ring, and will carry out the plan set up by the ring to get money out of the tax-payers of the city? The ring opposes the Republican ticket in a neighboring district, and sets up a bolt against the Republican ring in this city. This tidy trick of the tenacity of the ring in their own behalf ought to be sufficient to satisfy anybody.

What has become of the policy of extermination of bolters? It is out of the country with the speed of a tornado. Before it fell the "full force of the party." Old Democrats, Democrats? Mercy became a fugitive and a stranger. The wires were freighted with messages passing rapidly desth for the bolters. But now new things have come to pass, and behold, all things are become old. We hear from Washington that "the following of the peace policy, professions satisfactory with the decision of the Attorney-General, as they hope to be able to bring influence to bear on the President to have Captain Jack [illegible] with."

Upon the other hand, Mrs. Jane G. Swisshelm writes to the N. Y. Tribune: "Every Democrat knows that if he murders he will be hanged; that murderers will be fished out by men who understand the business, and not by military parades; that he who will not work will be punished and set to work; that he who drives cattle or oxen shall have a care to do it; that he who is idle shall be driven in his right to starve, by every natural law. Bring your Indian face to face with the alternative, work or want, and you can by such civilize him."

Not less than twenty-five or thirty Chinamen may be seen by any person who will step down to Mr. Holladay's grounds at the lower part of the city, engaged in leveling up and lowering the surface of the ground. There are no less than one hundred and fifty white men in the city to say, who would be thankful for an opportunity to do this work, to support themselves and their families. And yet Mr. Holladay's organ and the city ticket he have nominated, are demagoging the people raising against the employment of Chinese laborers. Judge the candor of their professions by their acts. If they are so anxious to have the Chinese removed to give place to white labor, why don't they begin? Let them discharge the hundreds of Chinamen employed to the exclusion of white laborers on their grounds and railways and in their mills, and they will convince the white laborers that they mean what they say.

Whether what Police Judge Denny, with his five or six thousand dollars of city funds in his pocket, has to say about paying over to the city the fines and fees collected by him. He has always claimed these fees as his perquisite in addition to his salary of $1,800. Judge Risley, candidate for Judge, says in his card, that he always has believed the law required the Police Judge to pay these moneys into the city treasury, and that, if elected, he will administer the law upon that construction. There will be a saving to the city, including both fines and fees in criminal cases and fees in civil cases, amounting to not less than $5,000 per year, and probably exceeding that sum considerably. $5,000 thus paid into the city is $5,000 taxes saved. If you would vote for this saving, vote for Judge Risley for Police Judge.

Why did not Mr. Councilman Besser stand by his own word in the matter of giving away the bridge franchise lately? The bridge scheme was a scheme of the ring, and there was soon to be an election. Mr. Besser is now the nominee of the ring. Put this and that together.

Besser against E. J. Northrup, Esq., for Councilman from the Third Ward! Just think of it! If the ring would be successful the result will be jobs innumerable.

Letter from Polk County.

POLK COUNTY, June 11, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

At a meeting of the Oak Grove and Monmouth Farmers' Club, it was decided to build by joint-stock, a Warehouse at Independence, to hold 100,000 bushels of wheat; and to give all a chance to own an interest in the house, the shares were placed at $25 each. It is expected that the house will be ready to receive grain by the 1st of September. The prospect for a crop this Fall is extraordinary. Both fall and spring grain look better than they have for years, besides there was more acres sown than at any previous year. If the price should happen to be somewhere near what is expected, Polk county, at least, will be O K.

Your paper containing a copy of the Pittsburg paper's interview in regard to Senator Mitchell, was greatly sought for, and created considerable discussion. When your first item in reference to that affair appeared, Mr. Mitchell's friends laughed at the idea of anybody believing such nonsence; they thought it either a joke, or done out of malice to spite the Senator. But when his defence appeared, they looked thunderstruck. His excuse is considered too thin altogether, for it looks hardly reasonable that a man of such fine abilities as Mr. Mitchell possesses, would not consider the consequences of changing his name, merely for the sake of living in retirement. It looks rather doubtful, and the general belief is, that not half the cause of that charge is known.

Now, a few words in regard to the Bulletin. That paper would like to read you out of the Republican party, but Republicans generally understand and approve your course, and as a slight proof, I will cite the Bulletin to facts. The OREGONIAN is taken by nearly every Republican who get their mail at this office, while only one single copy of the Bulletin is taken, and he offered to take less than half for his subscription money. If the Bulletin doubts this, I will mention names. There are all taken, two daily Bulletins here at present, but one of the subscribers requested your agent, in my presence, to write to you for your paper, as his time for the Bulletin has nearly expired, and he does not wish it any longer. The other copy is taken by a life-long Democrat. The Farmers especially are down on the Bulletin, for it takes special pains, and seems to glorify whenever it can copy (though it may be from the most obscure paper in the country) any decision, or anything else, that will favor a railroad company. But it, somehow, never can find, or it has no room, for anything against a railroad monopoly and in favor of the FARMER.

The Custom House editor rants about the People's movement as "an effort of certain disorganizing political operators to break into the Republican party in this city and county, and prepare the way for its utter overthrow in the State." He sees the handwriting on the wall, but cannot interpret it aright. The citizens of this city and county are determined to free themselves from the gyves which his clique would fain place upon them. He has been repudiated long since by the party which he assumes to control. Let him learn wisdom from the crushing defeat which is sure to come upon him.

The New York Times suggests that a repeal of the salary increase bill cannot be accomplished because it will certainly be antagonized by a proposition to restore the franking privilege, since the abolition of the latter was distinctly and forcibly urged as one of the reasons which necessitated the increase of pay. It says that a repeal of the salary increases may be carried, but people will have to elect between that measure and the restoration of the franking privilege.

The Bureau of Education at Washington has received advices from Texas to the effect that the Legislature has finally succeeded in overthrowing the common school system of the State. Governor Davis has been able through the past winter to defeat all attempts having this end in view, but the Legislature has at last rallied strength enough to pass the bill abolishing the system, over the veto of the Governor.

At a meeting of the representatives of the leading Illinois railroad lines, held in Chicago on the 3d instant, it was unanimously decided that hereafter no passes over the roads represented should be issued to any but "those persons having previously acknowledged rights to free passes." Members of Courts and of the Legislature are supposed to have such a "contract right," we presume.

Perhaps it is not generally known that in the Indian Territory there is a town known as Caddo. Nathless, there is such a town, and a pleasant state of affairs exists therein, as will appear from this item, copied from an Eastern exchange:

The town of Caddo, in the Indian Territory, which was seized by a gang of desperadoes some days ago, has been retaken by a detachment of United States troops from Fort Gibson, and six of the marauders captured. One or two murders are reported to have occurred while the outlaws held the place.

The trial of Boss Tweed has been postponed till October, in consequence of the illness of John Graham, of counsel.

TWO MEN BLOWN TO ATOMS AND A HOUSE UTTERLY DEMOLISHED.—On Sunday last a party of S—des got together at the Republic mine for the purpose of going a short distance from the location on a fishing trip. Two brothers, Swan and Emil Johnson, were of the party, and as they proceeded toward the fishing point, stopped to obtain a knife to cut fishing rods, at a store room, where a small quantity of nitro-glycerine was kept, and where exploders were made from gunpowder. Swan was the principal blaster of the mine, and Emil a miner. Emil passed into the building smoking a pipe, while Swan remained in the open door, and the rest of the party moved by. Scarcely half a minute had elapsed before a tremendous explosion took place, which so completely demolished the building as not to leave a vestige of it, and tearing and pulverizing the two men so as almost to atomize their bodies. The concussion of the air was so great as to rock the buildings in the neighborhood. The party which had passed escaped injury. There were between twenty and twenty five pounds of nitro glycerine, and but a small quantity of gunpowder in the building, the larger portion of these explosives being kept in a vaulted magaz ne some distance from this point, and it is supposed that fire was communicated to the powder from the pipe which Emil was smoking, and hence the explosion. Swain being an old and careful blaster, who had had experience in railroad employ, and with the Republic mine since October last, should no doubtedly have been more careful, and it seems strange that he did not observe Emil's pipe.

A Madrid dispatch of the 9th instant gives the following resume of the sitting of the Cortes on that day:

The Cortes after passing the resolution proclaiming the Republic, adjourned until evening for the purpose of completing the formation of the Ministry. At 7 P. M. the House reassembled and Senor Figueras opened the debate. He advised Republicans to be united, and warned them that a division in the ranks would prove fatal to the cause they held dear. The question then came up, whether the members proposed by Senor Martegui should be voted on together or separately, an excited discussion followed which was accompanied with frequent scenes of confusion.

The number of stars visible to the naked eye in the entire circuit of the heavens has been usually estimated at about 6,000. An ordinary opera glass will exhibit something like ten times that number. A comparatively small telescope easily shows 200,000, while there are telescopes in existence with which there is reason to believe, not less than 25,000,000 stars are visible.

ADDRESS

OF

The Committee of Twenty-Seven

TO THE

CITIZENS OF PORTLAND.

Our Mission,

Nominating a ticket of good and unexceptionable men, willing to administer the city government at greatly reduced expenditure—was ended when we placed such a ticket before you. The standing and good reputation our nominees enjoy in this community ought to be sufficient guarantee of our intentions.

Charge of the Bulletin Refuted.

The charges made that we, your committee, or any portion of us, or the persons nominated by us, were actuated by selfish motives, and particularly the charges made by the Bulletin, that we or they are committed to the purchase of the water works, or that we or they favor or desire in any manner to advance the interests of any ring, corporation or company, excepting the material interests of the city, we denounce as SLANDEROUS AND FALSE, gotten up for electioneering purposes, and are without the least foundation in fact.

The Water Question.

The water question has not been considered by us, for the reason that the present Council has done all which can be officially done concerning the purchase of the water works, and it now remains for each voter to determine for himself whether or not the purchase ought to be made. Every voter can choose for himself as to whether he will vote for or against that proposition. It would be presumption on the part of your committee to dictate how you should vote on a question which is now before you, and of the merits of which you can judge fully as well as we.

The Chinese.

As honorable men, we disdain to demagogue on the Chinese question. We, in common with our fellow citizens, feel that the influx of Chinese works a great hardship on the laboring classes of the Pacific States, and greatly retards their progress. But they are here by virtue of existing laws and treaties of the Government of the United States, and not by permission of this State or city. We would therefore advise as the only remedy for the existing evil, petitions to our representatives in Congress to use all honorable means for such modification of our treaties with China as will remove the evil which has fallen so heavily upon us. As long as such treaties exist, local laws discriminating against Chinese will not stand the test of adjudication.

Our Candidates.

Of the character of our candidates we need not speak. They are too well and favorably known to need commendation from us. We point to them with just pride, and we hereby return them thanks for having accepted nominations for offices, most of which at best can be but burdensome to them. Nearly all of them have filled the positions for which they are now nominated, and we challenge the most critical to point out where in they have ever failed of doing their whole duty.

RETRENCHMENT.

Our Candidates Pledged to Economical Administration of the City.

This Committee and its nominees pledge themselves to use all honorable means to so reduce the expenditures of the City Government that citizens will not hesitate to invest money in improvements. Mechanics and laborers will again find employment. When taxes are reduced to one third their present rates, we will again hear the sound of the hammer, and business will assume its wonted activity.

We Appeal to You as Citizens.

This movement of citizens to elect officers to administer municipal affairs, independent of party consideration, has provoked active and unscrupulous opposition. To elect the ticket, will require not only the vote but the influence and personal exertion of every citizen who desires to see it succeed. And we, therefore, call on all persons who have the material interests of the city at heart, to be on hand, both before and on election day, and work actively for success.

The Police Judge—A Pledge of Economy.

The following letter speaks for itself:

Gentlemen of the Peoples Committee. I hereby submit for your consideration my name as a candidate for the position of Police Judge.

Knowing that an honest and economical administration is the end proposed by the people in inaugurating this movement, I deem it proper to state my views, so far as relates to the office for which I am a candidate.

My opinion of the law is now and always has been, that the Police Judge is entitled to receive only the salary fixed by the Council, without fees or perquisites in either city, State or civil cases, and if acceptable to the Committee, I am willing to accept the position and faithfully administer the law according to the above construction.

Respectfully, etc.,

O RISLEY.

If Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is half as valuable as people say it is, no family should be without it. Certainly no person, be he lawyer, doctor, minister, or of any other profession, should start on a journey without it. No sailor, fisherman or woodsman should be without it. In fact it is needed wherever there is an ache, or sprain or cut or bruise or cough or cold.

Farmers and "Horse Men" are continually inquiring what we know of the utility of Sheridan's Cuticura Condition Powders, and in reply we would say, through the columns of the OREGONIAN that we have heard from hundreds who have used them with gratifying results, that is also our experience.

Habitual constipation leads to the following results: Inflammation of the kidneys, sick and nervous headache, biliousness, dyspepsia, indigestion, piles, loss of appetite and strength, all of which may be avoided by being regular in your habits, and taking, say one of Parker's Purgative Pills nightly for four or six weeks.

Johnson's Anodyne Liniment may be used to advantage where any Liniment is desirable. In cases of severe cramps and pains in the stomach it is undoubtedly the best article that can be used internally.

It has stood the test of half a century, and has not been found wanting. Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is the acknowledged cure for all lung troubles, from the incipient cold to confirmed consumption. Do not rest an hour until the disease is expelled from the system.

Calamities will come upon us in spite of all prevention, but it is gratifying to learn that Helmbold's Celebrated Buchu can still be obtained at all the drug stores, and that it can be relied on to cure all diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. Look out for counterfeits. Genuine has private proprietary stamp of H. T. Helmbold on each bottle. Directions accompany. Sold by all druggists. John F. Henry, New York, Sole Agent.

Will cure Tetter, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Itch, Barber's Itch, Ulcers, Old Sores, Scalds, Burns, Inflamed Eyes, Piles, Pimples, Blotches and all Eruptions of the Skin. Of the many thousand boxes yearly sold of this Ointment, we are yet to hear of a single case of failure. STAGE LINES.

COLUMBIA RIVER & PUGET SOUND
MAIL LINE.
GEORGE COGGAN, Proprietor.
THE ONLY REGULAR LINE RUNNING BY ARrangement, and in connection with the PUGET SOUND STEAM NAVIGATION CO., N. P. R. R. CO. and O. S. N. CO., between Portland, Victoria and Portland. THIS IS THE ONLY STAGE LINE selling THROUGH tickets over these several lines, and carrying passengers on their tickets.
Passengers, by purchasing THROUGH TICKETS save in money and trouble, and secure the best conveyances, by the only line by which close connections can be relied on. The great inducements made by so-called opposition stage lines cannot be met by THROUGH PASSENGERS, as the local fare over the N. P. R. R. and other lines exceed the reduction made by the opposition.
Through tickets can be obtained in Portland at O. S. N. Co's office, Olympia, at C. GRIGGS' STAGE office, and on board the P. S. N. Co's steamers.
OUR AGENTS on steamers will take charge of baggage and freight for Stages, in waiting at Tenino.
Buggies, Carriages and other private conveyances can be secured by telegraphing to the Agent at the Stage office at Olympia.
N. PIERCE, Agent.

DEATH OF LEO HUDSON.—Theater goers will recollect this daring equestrienne who appeared in this city and Salem in September, 1871. She died in New York city on the 23d instant from the effects of a severe fall while performing in her great part of "Mazeppa" at the Grand Opera House in that city. Black Bess, her favorite mare, died during the night on which the accident occurred. Her mistress, although severely injured, remained with the poor beast till it expired. The result of this affection for her lost friend, coupled with the injuries received, hastened the death of the actress who was widely known throughout the United States and England. Miss Hudson was born in London, England, in 1851, and came to this country while quite young. She appeared for the first time as an equestrienne in New York city.

LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY.—A special meeting of the Ladies' Relief Society is called by the President for this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the usual place of meeting. A full attendance is requested, as business of importance is to be considered.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamer Oriflamme arrived at this port yesterday morning from San Francisco with a large number of passengers and a full freight. The Oriflamme is announced to sail for San Francisco on Monday evening at 6 o'clock.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Base Ball day.

Election—Monday.

Haying time will soon arrive.

What about that Cricket Club?

Visiting Masons returning home.

WEEKLY OREGONIAN now ready.

Where are you going this Summer.

Oriflamme will sail Monday evening.

Fourth of July celebrations are good.

Excursion to day and one to-morrow.

Fifty-four arrests made thus far in June.

New aspirants for office will come out—'tis said.

Spring chickens, late importations, etc., at Quinn's.

Tripe, la mode de can, a new thing, at Fabre's Central Market.

The San Francisco steamer will sail for this port this morning.

Charley Dexter "will do the grand" at the Sea Side—he knows how.

The evening train south is popular and so is Superintendent Hildreth.

Season for emigrating to Clatsop and other places of pleasure, approaching.

Joaquin Miller is to be married, and later, he will write a history of his life with Indians.

Grocers have been worrying over the delay of the steamer—fruits are perishable, you know.

Immense quantities of cord wood are being discharged from barges at the foot of Oak street.

Thad. Welch's picture of a view up the Columbia will be raffled at the Cosmopolitan Hotel this evening at 8 o'clock.

Frank Mayo is playing "Davy Crockett" in the play of that title in New York city. Old citizens will remember him.

The steamer Onecatta, which is the fastest boat of her size on the river, took a short run yesterday, just to show her speed.

Ed. Brown will take charge of the express, which, by the way, is sent up the road each afternoon, going south, this evening.

The usual number of barrels filled with slop and offal still adorn (?) Stark street between Front and First streets. How long, Oh! how long shall we suffer?

The steamers Carrie and Onecatta engaged in a spirited race down the river yesterday afternoon—the former bound for Vancouver, and the latter for St. Helens.

Good many people travel on the evening train to get the chance to eat a ... at Aurora where the only square meal set out is to be had—and every body knows it.

White linen suits promise to be fashionable among ladies at the seaside and in the country this summer. They are trimmed with lace or embroidery, the latter stamped on the waist and skirt.

A prominent lady up town ate nearly two pints of cherries, stones and all, a few days ago. After passing two sleepless nights and days of agony, the physician gave it as his critical opinion that his patient is convalescent.

A San Francisco paper of the 10th says: "A soldier belonging to Company H, Twenty-first U. S. Infantry, named John Lal, was brought to this city from Fort Vancouver, on Saturday, as insane. He is a native of Austria, 28 years of age. Yesterday he was committed to the Asylum.

When will the authories put a stop to the raids of cows into the city during the night, when peaceably disposed citizens desire nature's sweet restorative—sleep! Complaints come to us in such numbers that we wish somebody would stop the nuisance and thus give us a rest from grumblers.

POSTAL CARDS.

The introduction of the postal card system has been the signal for certain persons to indulge in the gratification of low instincts by writing obscene communications upon these cards, signing the same with a fictitious name and then mailing them to the address of such of their friends as they may choose for their victims. We learn from "the powers that be" that such communications are consigned to the flames by the Postmaster whenever they are discovered by the clerks, except in cases where there is a possibility of the offender being apprehended. (Should the person committing such an offense be discovered (either before or after the act is committed) such an offender will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. That all may know what such penalty is, we append an extract from the postal law touching upon this subject:

SEC. 148. That no obscene book, pamphlet, picture, print or other publication of a vulger or indecent character, or any letter upon the envelope of which, or postal card upon which scurrilous epithets may have been written or printed, or disloyal device printed or engraved, shall be carried in the mail. And any person who shall knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited for mailing or for delivery any such obscene publication or communication shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall for every such offense be fined not more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, according to the circumstances or aggravation of the offense.

PICNIC.

Under the auspices of several well known gentlemen of the city, an excursion will be given to the Cascades to day on the O. S. N. Co's steamer Onconta. The steamer will leave her wharf this morning at 8 o'clock, proceed to the Cascades, and return in the evening. An opportunity will be afforded those desiring to take the cars and pass up to the end of the portage, and return in time for the steamer.

To-morrow a grand picnic and excursion will be given by Mr. Otto Trener, to Pleasant Grove, situated on the Western bank of the Wallamet, a short distance above Milwaukie. That elegant and commodious steamer Annie Stewart is chartered for the occasion. The East Portland Brass Band has been engaged to furnish music. At the picnic grounds a large dancing platform 60 by 100 feet has just been laid which will afford ample opportunity to all to indulge in the terpsichorean art, who may feel so inclined. The steamer will leave her wharf at the foot of Alder street, at 11 and 2 o'clock for the picnic grounds.

BASE BALL.

Amateurs and Athletes, of this city, play to-day.

June 2d, at Baltimore: Washington, 3; Baltimore, 12. On Union Grounds, New York: Boston, 5 runs, 6 blanks, Atlantic, 0: runs earned, Boston, 1.

The Crescent Club have received a note from the Olympia Club, of Oregon City, declining a challenge for the second game this week. As other week's practice of the Oregon City boys will enable them to play the Crescents.

The Yale Club was beaten by the Harvards at Boston, on the 31st ult.—20 to 5. The game between the Yale and Harvard freshmen, at New Haven, on the same day, resulted in favor of the latter—25 to 4.

The Pioneers, accompanied by a large delegation of friends, will leave on the morning train for Oregon City, where they will engage in the first game of the series with the Clackamas Club. Captain Wiley has made a "new deal" with the nine, which he thinks will make it stronger than on the occasion of their contest with the Pacifics. The new disposition of the nine, we believe, will not work well—the boys not having had sufficient practice together. We hope they will come out with a clear record.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, J.

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES.

At the First Congregational Church, Mr. Eaton will present "Hints on Amusements" in the morning. At 7:30 P. M. his subject will be "Father."

Rev. George H. Atkidson will preach in Holladay's Addition, East Portland, to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock, and at Plymouth Church, North Portland, at 4 o'clock P. M.

Religious services in the Scandinavian Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Portland, on Sunday, 15th inst., at 11 o'clock A. M., and in the English language at 2 o'clock P. M., A. E. Fredrichsen, pastor.

At the First Baptist Church, corner of Fourth and Alder, the pastor, Rev. A. R. Medbury, will preach a sermon to-morrow morning reviewing the pastoral year. In the evening, Mr. Medbury will preach in the Taylor street M. E. Church, by exchange with the pastor, Rev. G. W. Ixer, who will preach at the Baptist Church.

AMUSEMENTS.

Last evening a number of ladies and gentlemen congregated at the Armory Hall, on the occasion of the Calico Ball given under the auspices of the Emmet Guard. About fifty couples were present. Music was furnished by Everest's String Band. The affair was in all respects successful, and participants had no occasion to regret having attended. A most agreeable social time was experienced by all.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Charley Martin speaks—as per ad.

Mr. Chas. Dexter, who has been successful in several efforts to please the public in various ways, has taken a lease of the Sea Side House at Clatsop, and guarantees visitors every opportunity to enjoy themselves while stopping with him. Nothing more need be said than to refer pleasure seekers to his card under New To-Day.

LATEST NEWS ITEMS.

"Prize packages" of every sort are to be banished from the railroad cars of Illinois by act of the legislature.

A Virginia journal gives notice that if any of its patrons fail to get the paper they should call at the office and subscribe.

The wild man in the woods is in Georgia now. He has got to be eight feet high, and he tore off the tail of a horse the other day.

Advices from Montevideo to April 23d say the yellow fever prevails there to such an extent that the people are flying from the city, and business is suspended:

There is a good deal of sound wisdom in the suggestion of the farmer, "if you want your boy to stay at home, don't bear too hard on the grindstone when he turns the crank."

A gigantic petrification of a reptile, whose shoulders only had been reached after workmen had dug twenty-five feet into the bank where it was discovered, is mentioned by a Missouri paper.

General Jackson's Bible, which was given to him during his Presidency by a Washington lady, and after his death was presented to the Hermitage Church in Tennessee was stolen from that place recently.

A petrified negro is said to have been discovered in Roanoke, Miss., enclosed in a metalic coffin, which had for several years lain undisturbed with other rubbish in the deserted garret of an old cabinet-maker.

An Illinois girl, having six lovers, offered to marry the one who should "break up" the most prairie in three days. The result was that she got a smart husband, and her father found his new farm ready for planting free of cost.

The Albany Express estimates that about $10,000 worth of ladies' dresses have been ruined in that city during the past year by vitriol being thrown upon them in the street, and there is no clue to the scoundrels who commit these outrages.

The survivors of the Mexican war are to hold a Convention in Washington next January to prepare a memorial to Congress for a pension equal to that allowed the veterans of 1812, and also to adopt measures for a general assemblage at the centennial celebration of '76.

Recently Milan was full of peasants, who came to visit the Church of Saint Eustorgio on the fete day of St. Peter the Martyr. The particular object is to preserve themselves from headaches for the year to come, and the all powerful charm consisted in knocking the head more or less hard against the marble urn of the Saint. To a stranger, this semi-comic spectacle is productive of an indescribable sensation, the irresistible desire to laugh opposing the pity for the ignorance so glaringly evinced.

President MacMahon is above the middle size in stature, has a scrutinizing look, and rather intelligent features, bearing the impress of his military pursuits. His wife is of Irish extraction, and takes a prominent part in French charitable movements. He received a gold hilted sword from his Irish admirers soon after the battle of Magenta, and is on friendly terms with some of the Irish residents in Paris.

The origin of postal cards dates from the Franco-Prussian war. The difficulty of soldiers in securing pens and paper upon which to write home induced the German authorities to issue bits of pasteboard to the soldiers for this purpose, and they were largely availed of, the messages being written in pencil. Their use was continued thereafter in time of peace, and has since been adopted in England and the United States.

The use of dogs for the traction of vehicles used by hucksters, is a notable feature of traffic in Berlin. Bakers' and grocers' wagons, milk carts and lighter vehicles of all descriptions, are drawn by two or three dogs, harnessed like horses, or by a single dog harnessed by the side of a woman or a boy. The number of dog carts registered among the licensed conveyances of Berlin is 2,186.

During his recent visit to this city, says the Indianapolis Journal, General Sheridan, speaking of the late raid into Mexico, said: "The Rio Grande is such a crooked river, you know, that McKenzie, probably, couldn't tell which side of it he was on." The merry twinkle of his eye, as he said this, showed that he did not disapprove of McKenzie's action.

"I say, Tom, that is a nobby suit you have on. I declare I've been trying to get something that will fit me to a dot, and that I can depend on to wear well. Where did you buy them?" "I was passing along First street, last week, and as I turned the corner of Washington street I noticed some fine cloths and furnishing goods. The attraction was so great that I stepped inside, and after selecting the materials, I ordered what may be termed an elegant fitting suit. The place is Fishel & Roberts."

THE TERRITORIES.

There were 35 deaths in Salt Lake City during the month of May.

A "Borgia" has been among the canines of Olympia, and several curs have bit the dust.

The four Kanakas and Indians under arrest at Victoria on a charge of complicity in the San Juan Island murder have all been discharged.

Several fine horses have died of the epizootic in Pierce county, W. T., and a number of others are sick. The disease appears to be more severe there than in many other sections.

Three Sisters of Charity reached Missoula a few days since. Two of them remain and the other one is on a visit to the St. Ignatious Mission.

The wagon roads from Corinne to Helena are said to be about the worst in the world. Over 100 teams were recently mired down in that road in the space of three miles.

Heretofore the light house keepers in the Puget Sound district received their appointments through the Collector. New regulations deprive that functionary of this patronage.

A stampede was recently made from Bozeman to diggings discovered some years ago, which are said to be rich, located somewhere in the vicinity of Crazy Head Mountain, about thirty-five miles from Boseman.

There were five desertions from the American camp on San Juan Island on the 4th inst. The deserters are now in Olympia. Of forty-four men forming the garrison in October last, only thirty remain.

A signal station has been established by the Government on the summit of Pike's Peak, Col. This station will be a mile and a half higher than that upon Mount Washington, and is established particularly for the study of the upper atmospheric currents.

A personal letter from Bannack, May 20th, says a report is in circulation there that "ounce diggings" have been discovered on the North Fork of Salmon river, about 150 miles from Bannack. There appears yet to be no definite or confirmed information in relation to them.

The Silver City Avalanche says: "The mines are yielding an abundance of rich ore, and we may safely predict that our bullion shipments this months will amount to at least $100,000. Everything indicates that the good times, we have so long and so patiently waited for, are dawning upon us."

During the last six weeks the Port Gamble mills have cut 6,000,000 feet of lumber, averaging per week 1,000,000 feet, and per day 166,000 feet. The company was rushed with business, and rushed their two mills correspondingly. The demand is now filled, and as there is but little to do, one of the mills will probably be shut down.

The Colonist says: Since the terrible murders on San Juan Island a feeling of very great insecurity prevails there. Farmers will scarcely leave their wives and families alone for any length of time, fearing they may be butchered in their absence. This is a deplorable state of things, which the appointment of an efficient police might change.

An Indian tribe in Wisconsin has organized a brass band, and as the savages are protected by the Government, the people have no redress. There is a great deal of hard feeling among the citizens towards the young aborigine who plays the cymbals. He performs with such earnestness and vigor that a vigilance committee has been organized to waylay him and take him apart, in order to ascertain whether he is a real Indian or is merely rivoted together and run with a steam engine. The manner in which he wakes the echoes amid the everlasting hills would make a deaf and dumb asylum nervous. When the band has serenaded a man two or three times, he succumbs. He goes calmly around among his little family, and removes their hair, and scalps the hired girl and the colored boy, and, after taking up the collection, he hands the whole lot of bunches over to the band, which goes off happy to sweet strains from the harmonic young cymbal player. If we lived there we would bathe his cymbals in nitro-glycerine, and lift him out to Lake Michigan at the first clash.

S.E. COR. WASHINGTON AND FIFTH STS.
(CLEANEST IN TOWN.)

TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF THE CITY OF PORTLAND.

The Portland Water Company take this method of defining their position on the purchase of their works by the city of Portland:

On the 25th day of April, 1872, this company received a communication from Messrs. W. S. Ladd, J. B. Congle, C. H. Lewis and S. G. Reed, sub committee on water supply, appointed by the Mayor, asking the question:

"Will you dispose of your works to the city of Portland? and if so, you will state price, terms, etc."

Our answer was, we would sell; and the price, three hundred thousand dollars, to be paid as specified.

Again, the Committee on Fire and Water called on us at our office, saying they came in accordance with a resolution passed by the Common Council, on the 5th of February, to confer with us as to the purchase of our works by the city, to ascertain the price, and report to the Council at their earliest convenience. This company named the same price, viz., $300,000, that had been named to the former committee, two hundred and forty thousand dollars cash, and the city to assume the payment of sixty thousand dollars currency bonds, bearing seven per cent. interest, payable in July, 1880.

The committee made their report to the Common Council on the evening of February 18, 1873, from which report we copy the latter portion, viz.:

We have been permitted to examine the income of the Water Company for the years 1870, 1871 and 1872, from rents of water, and from them we learn that the receipts would pay the interest on the bonds, the cost of operating the works, and have a considerable surplus, while the rents could be lowered one fourth the present rates, and still pay rents sufficient to pay interest and cost of operating, thus giving to our citizens cheaper water, which is a matter greatly to be desired.

The increase of population in the city will increase the rents, and cheaper rates will increase the takers, without corresponding increase in the cost of operating; and in the no distant future your Committee believe that the rates can be reduced to one-half the present rates, and still leave a sufficient revenue to pay interest on the bonds and cost of operating, while a small sum can be annually accumulating to form a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds.

Under the provisions of our charter nothing can be done in the way of incurring an indebtedness sufficient to purchase or build Water Works by the city until the proposition is submitted to the people at a general election, and by them approved.

Your Committee therefore recommend that the proposition of the Portland Water Company for the sale of their Works, rights, &c., &c., be submitted to the people at the coming June election, as provided by charter, for their approval or rejection.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
(Signed) J. B. CONGLE,
J. C. MORELAND,
Committee on Fire and Water.

The Portland Water Company would respectfully state to the tax-payers the fact, that they have not urged the city to purchase our works. We have simply answered in good faith communications from committees appointed by the Mayor and Common Council of this city, as we supposed in good faith on the part of the city, and as a continuance of our willingness to give to the tax payers and the public any information they may desire, in order that they may vote intelligently at the coming June election for or against the purchase of our works by the city, we submit the following abstract from our books for two years, with the probable rates for one year:

ABSTRACT—Water Rates of the Portland Water Company from July 1, 1871, to July 1, 1872.

1871.	CONSUMER'S LIST.
July	$ 3,253 84

April	3,381 61
May (estimated)	3,500 00
June (estimated)	3,890 54
	$42,427 43
From City, County, Gas Company and Schools.	2,068 00
From building purposes, street sprinkling, etc.	1,460 00
Total	$45,955 43

From the foregoing abstracts we submit the following deductions, viz:

	Water.	Income.
1872—Rates as per books	$42,774 96
1873—Rates as per books (May and June estimated)	45,965 43	3,190 47
1874—Same ratio of increase	50,000 00	4,034 57
Estimated rates for one year, ending June 30, 1874		50,000 00
Interest on $740,000 bonds at 8 per cent.	12,200 00
Interest on $60,000 currency bonds, bearing 7 per cent., coin.	3,780 00
Expenses, allowing $1,000 more than present year	8,000 00	30,980 00
Surplus after paying interest and expenses		19,020 00
Rates for 1874, $50,000—25 per cent. less than present rates		12,500 00
Surplus after reduction of rates		$6,520 00

The city can run the works, reduce the rates 25 per cent., and leave a balance in favor of the city of six thousand, five hundred and twenty dollars; or, in other words, consumers that now pay $3 per month, can be supplied for $1 50 per month, and others in proportion; and still the city will receive a revenue without taxing the people for a water supply.

Any further information desired in relation to the Company's works will be freely given on application at their office.

Respectfully,
THE PORTLAND WATER COMPANY.
H. D. GRANT, President.

COLEMANS Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus EUCALYPTUS is a preparation containing all the valuable medicinal qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every Calif rnia garden for its medicinal virtues, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHEA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its cures can be seen at his Depot, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge, and in a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the harmful results of the usual Quinine and Arsenical remedies for those diseases are entirely avoided.

Down in the Meadow.

BY ELLEN C. REXFORD.

We strolled down the meadow one morning in summer,
And gathered some blossoms that grew by the way,
And heard in the lowlands the brown partridge drumming
Its first up his brown soldiers to drill for the day.

The birds were astir with a jubilant chorus,
For all things seemed glad in that midsummer morn,
There was sunshine behind us and sunshine before us,
And sunshine on wheat fields and rank rows of corn.

We stopped by the stile where the fragrant sweet clover
Held up to the morning its clusters of red
For the kiss of the sun, as a girl to her lover
Lifts up her pink cheeks with her wishes unsaid

We sat hand in hand and took count on the meadows
That glistened afar in the glow of the morn,
And noted the shifting and tremulous shadows
Both the breezes made in the rows of the corn

"Did you hear what the wind said—I heard of the maiden
Who stood at my side, with her hand in mine own?
She answered, "Ah, no! for the breezes are laden
With too many whispers to hear one alone."

"I heard, love," I answered, "they said, 'See those lovers
They walk through the meadow with hearts full of bliss;
Their secret the wind nymph most quickly discovers;
'Tis told in a look, in a word, in a kiss."

She blushed, and I saw all the roses grow paler
With envy and longing. She lifted her eyes
With shy, feigned expression that could not avail her;
I knew that she felt neither fear nor surprise.

Then I kissed her, and lo! all the winds fell to singing,
Some merry, glad song that was almost a psalm,
And down deep in my heart was a melody ringing,
That chimed with all nature in infinite calm.

PETER PUNCH'S HEROISM.

A STORY SURE TO PLEASE ALL WHO READ IT.

Peter Punch was a Yankee peddler. His home was in a little village near the seacoast. Peter had two reasons for returning from his peddling tour at the end of every fortnight—one was to replenish his stock at the variety store, and the other to see his blue-eyed, flaxen-haired sweetheart, Charity Chase.

All the odd notions which Peter, with all his volubility and palavering, could not sell—all the bits of lace and remnants of ribbon which could not be disposed of even for a "mere nothing," were given by the loving peddler to his grateful Charity. Peter was a natural salesman. He rarely turned his back to a house without leaving some articles of merchandise behind him, on which he had made a snug profit. So in course of time he began to feel independent, and to meditate quitting the itinerant business, and open a store in the village.

Then he began to think about taking a wife, and of course he would marry Charity. Peter had never once given a thought to any other of the fair damsels of Beanville.

But just as he had about made up his mind to propose and marry at once, there came to the village a dashing young lady of fashion.

She dressed and walked like a queen, only at times she was afflicted with the Grecian bend; but Peter—silly fellow—thought her bent figure the most superb one he had ever seen, and "wished to goodness the girls at Beanville had sense enough to fix themselves in that style, then they would look more like somebody."

Peter saw her first at her uncle's, where she was going to pass the summer. He sold her a pair of gloves, and lost his heart to her on the spot. "What a jewel of a hand she has!" thought he, as he pocketed the pay and went back to his wagon. "Charity's gloves are three sizes larger. What a waist is hers! slim but plump as a peach. Her cheeks are like mother's peonies, only prettier, with lips like a dead ripe cherry. Now, if I was only as rich as I ought to be by good rights, she wouldn't leave these diggins till she was Mrs. Punch."

Thus soliloquizing, Peter cracked his whip and drove off. Somehow Peter's tongue was far less glib on this excursion than it was wont, and as a consequence the end of the second week found him with his goods not half disposed of. But he determined to return home nevertheless. He turned his horse's head in the direction of Beanville, talking thus to himself:

"I'm bound to go and see that Miss Delong, and find out whether she is as stuck up as her uncle's folks. For my part I don't see what's the use of some folks feeling so mighty big; I hope she ain't proud. She looked as clever as pie, though I've heard say you can't tell by a frog's looks how far he can jump."

Peter was soon in sight of Beanville again. He was determined to become acquainted with Miss Delong at once. So he resolved to call and show her some shawls on his way into the village. Full of this idea he reined his horse to the side of the road, and dismounted.

Taking a box of paper collars from the wagon, he selected one and put it on. He then combed his hair, and pulled his pantaloons out of his boots, brushing the mud from the latter with a wisp of straw. Then, satisfied with his preparations, he resumed his seat and drove on. He called on Miss Delong, and concluded in a very short time that she was proud. "Proud as Lucifer, and didn't use me half decent, but I'll win her yet, that's true as the seven stars in the bull that the schoolmaster tells about.

Peter turned his horse out to pasture, and fell to hoeing and weeding in his mother's garden, so as to be near his proud charmer.

"Oh, if I could only be a hero! Women love brave men, mother says. If I could only save her life without too much risk, I'd jump at the chance. If the house would only burn up, so I could save her, I wouldn't mind having my eye-winkers singed a bit. Then she would marry me out of gratitude.

Peter's head was full of such thoughts as these. At last his wish seemed about gratified. He was walking down the street one day, his hands in his pocket, when he saw a pair of horses coming down the street at full speed. Two ladies occupied the seat behind them—Miss Delong and her aunt.

"The horses are running away with them as sure as guns. Now, Peter Punch, here is a chance. Show yourself a hero!"

Peter quickly posted himself in front of the running team, throwing his hat, and shouting wildly to the ladies to keep up good courage, and he would save them. On they came, and Peter made a dash for the bridle-bit, but missing it, he was thrown down, and the wheels passed over his coattail.

"Are you hurt, Mr. Punch?" asked the sweet voice of Miss Delong from the seat in the buggy, which had come to a standstill.

"No, ma'am, not a bit; and I shouldn't mind it if I was, I'm so glad I have saved your life."

"Saved my life, Mr. Punch! In what way? Your conduct struck us as something very strange," said the lady.

"Do you see that bridge yonder? If I hadn't stopped that runaway team you would be soaking in the bottom of the river now."

A merry laugh from both ladies rang out on the air.

"Why, bless your simple soul, Mr. Punch, the horses weren't running away. We were in a hurry to reach the depot before the train leaves—that was all."

And with that the ladies drove on again faster than before, leaving Peter to sneak off home, feeling, as he expressed it, as "though he had been caught in a henroost." But he did not give up the notion of becoming a hero. He felt sure he would yet have an opportunity, and resolved to watch for it.

One evening he was passing the house where Miss Delong was staying, when her voice, talking in a pleading tone, reached his ears. The windows were open, and several persons were assembled in the parlor.

"Save me! save me! Will no one save me from this cruel fate?" rang in pleading tones on the evening air.

Peter bolted into the house like lightning. In his wild anxiety, he saw no one but the lady of his love, and a man standing over her with a dagger in his hand.

Miss Delong must have fainted away, or else the villain had stabbed her, for she was lying on a divan, pale as a lily. Peter rushed up to her, exclaiming:

"Save you! Yes, I will save you, though ten thousand villians seek your precious life."

He raised her quickly, and before any one could comprehend the affair, he bore her into the street.

Here Mr. Punch found his charge considerably revived and desperately determined to be released.

"Fear not, my pretty pink, it is your own Peter Punch who has saved you. The villian daren't show his head now."

Then out rushed a dozen people of both sexes.

"What are you doing with this lady, fellow?" demanded a man of herculean proportions, whom Peter recognized as the villain of the dagger.

"I am protecting her from your murderous hand! Advance one step, and you are a dead man," and Peter drew out and opened a huge jack-knife with one hand, while the other held Miss Delong securely.

"You must be an excellent actress, Louisa," said one, "since this fellow took your distress to be real."

"Acting? only acting!" stammered Peter, releasing Louisa, and pocketing his knife with a jerk. She ain't a theater woman, I hope?"

"Not by any means, Mr. Punch; we were enacting a tragedy for our own amusement. Will you come in and witness the last act?"

"Not much, I reckon," muttered Peter, as he put in his best jumps for home.

Peter was finally disgusted with himself.

The next day he mounted his wagon again for a peddling tour. He was plainly never intended for a hero, or anything but a peddler.

He took an unfrequented road, which led along near the sea, as he wished to call at some fishers' cabins.

Following a bend in the road, he came in full view of the sea. A woman was at some distance in the water, and seemingly struggling for her life.

Peter knew by the hat she wore that it was Louisa Delong.

"Peter Punch, you are in luck at last, certain sure. Miss Delong is drowning, and you must save her. I hope she'll swoon just as I reach her, and wake up to find me bending loveingly over her and chafing her hands—that's the way the heroes I've read about acted."

As he talked thus, Peter was plunging furiously through the water toward Miss Delong, who was quite unaware that a rescuer was at hand.

Peter made several lunges at her before he succeeded in getting hold of her dress; and thus drawing her toward him, he bore her in triumph to the beach, notwithstanding violent opposition, accompanied by hysterical screams from the young lady.

"Mr. Punch, this is too outrageous! I demand an explanation!" said she, indignantly.

"Well, if I had known how you was going to take on, I should have let you drowned a few minutes longer. There's no credit to be got saving anybody till they're going down the third time."

At this juncture two elderly ladies emerged from the water, their garments dripping with brine.

"What is the meaning of this?" asked one of them, sternly.

"It means," says Peter, promptly, "that I saved this young woman from a watery grave, and she insults me for it."

"If he supposed you drowning, Louisa, he is pardonable."

Supposed her drowning! And was it possible, then, that she was not—that she was only bathing? It seemed so indeed, and Peter marched away crestfallen enough. When he reached the spot where he left his horse, he was not there, and Peter chased him for nearly an hour, his garments feeling heavy and uncomfortable.

He found the beast, at length, standing quietly before the door of a farmhouse, and drove him to change his clothing.

The would-be hero was confined to his house for a month with the rheumatism after his last attempt at heroism. At the end of that time he considered himself cured both of his ailment and his love for Louisa Delong, often saying to himself:

"'Fine feathers make fine birds.'" Louisa wan't any prettier in that gray bathing dress than Charity; and the peony red of her cheeks was all washed in streaks by the waves. Charity don't paint, and, what's more, she don't care whether I'm a hero or not, and I mean to ask her to have me the first time I see her."

A Danbury Garden.

We suppose there is a time that comes to every man when he feels he should like to have a garden. If he takes such a notion he will tell his wife of it. This is the first mistake he makes, and the ground thus lost is never fully recovered. She draws her chair up to his, and lays one hand on his knee, and purses up her lips into a whistle of expectation—the vixen—and tells about her mother's garden, and how nice it is to have vegetables fresh from the vines every morning, and she will go right out and plan the whole thing herself. And so she does. He takes his spade, and works himself into a perspiration, and she tramps around under a frightful sun bonnet, and gets under his feet and shrieks at the worms, and loses her shoes; and makes him first vexed, and then mad, and then ferocious.

After the garden is spaded he gets the seed and finds she has been thoughtful enough to open the papers, and empty thirteen varieties of different vegetables into one dish. This leads him to step out doors where he communes with nature alone for a moment. Then he takes up the seed and a hoe, and a line, and two pegs, and starts for the garden. And then she puts on that awful bonnet, and brings up the rear with a long-handled rake, and a pocket full of beans and petunia seed, and dahlia bulbs.

While he is planting the corn, she stands on the cucumber hills and rakes over the seed pan. Then she puts the rake handle over her shoulder, and the rake teeth into his hair, and walks over the other beds. He don't find the squash seed until she moves, and then he digs them out of the earth with his thumb. She plants the best seed herself, putting about two feet of earth and sod upon them. Then she takes advantage of his absorption in other matters, and puts down the petunia seed in one spot, and afterwards digs them up, and puts them down in another place. The beans she conceals in the earth wherever she can find a place, and puts the bulbs in the cucumber hills. Then she tips over the seed pan again, and apologizes, and steps on two of the best tomato plants, and says, "Oh my!" which in no way resembles what he says.

About this time she discovers a better place for the petunia seed, but having forgotten where she last put them, she proceeds to find them, and within an incredibly brief space of time succeeds in unearthing pretty much everything that has been put down. After confusing things so there is no earthly possibility of ever unravelling them again, she says the sun is killing her, and goes over to the fence where she stands four hours, telling the woman next door about an aunt of hers who was confined to her bed for eleven years, and had eight doctors from the city, but nothing could give her any relief until an old lady—but you have heard it before.

The next day a man comes to his office to get the pay for a patent seed sower which his wife has ordered, and he no more than gets away before the patentee of a new lawnmower comes in with an order for ten dollars, and he in turn is followed by the corn-sheller man, and the miserable gardener starts for home to head off the robbers, and finds his wife at the gate, with his own hat on, and just about to close a bargain with a smooth faced individual for a two hundred dollar mowing-machine, and a pearl-handled, ivory-mounted hay-cutter. He first knocks the agricultural implement agent on the head, and then drags the miserable woman into the house, and, locking the door, gives himself up to his emotions.—Danbury News.

CURIOUS ELECTRICAL PHENOMENA IN THE WEST.—The Des Moines (Iowa) Register, May 18th, has the following:

Wednesday evening last the air was so full of electricity that for several hours it was almost impossible to get the telegraph wires to work. Other phenomena indicating the presence of an immensely large amount of the lightning fluid were observed not only here but in other places. No report has reached us any more curious than that connected with the passage of the Eastern-bound express train on the Rock Island Road. From the time the train left Stuart, the track behind it appeared for several car-lengths like a stream of fire. Passengers in the sleeping-car crowded to the rear door to gaze at the unaccustomed spectacle. On they rushed, the fiery eye of the locomotive in front, that trailing banner of flame behind. As they entered the valley, above Commerce Mills, the current increased, as it did in all the low, damp places, until the ribbons of fire made a regular illumination behind the train. It was evidently caused, in some unexplained way, by the friction of the car-wheels. The same phenomenon was noticed at the car yards in this city, but the light was not so bright nor did it continue so long.

LOST AND FOUND. Stories of children stolen by Indians, growing up among them, and only learning the truth from death-bed confessions, years after, are not always reliable. The Montreal Gazette gives a narrative of the kind which shows that truth is stranger than fiction. It appears that thirty years ago a little child, the son of a Quebec carpenter named Richards, mysteriously disappeared, and constant efforts made for his recovery were of no avail, no clue being discovered as to his fate or whereabouts. A few weeks ago the lost boy was discovered in a singular manner. A gentleman coming to Montreal on business, entered the store of a hatter named Richmond, and in the course of conversation remarked that he bore a striking resemblance to the Richards family of Quebec. After a while, Richmond told the strange story of his life, from which it appears he had been stolen by an Indian squaw, whom he had been taught to love as his mother, and who had confessed on her death-bed that he was not her son. The name of the family from which he had been stolen was, as near as she could remember, Richmond. With the slight clue afforded by the confession of the squaw, he set about discovering his parents, but, as might have been expected, without success, and it was only by the timely discovery of a stranger, of his resemblance to the Richards family, that he was restored, after thirty years, to those who had given up all hope of ever seeing him again.

Jones, on returning from a ball in the suburbs, informed his landlady that it was a very rehashe entertainment.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

FRIDAY EVENING, June 13, 1873.

Gold to New York to-day, 118

Portland Legal Tender rates, 84½ buying; 85½ selling.

Gold bars are quotable at 800 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California, 11s 11d@12s 1d; club, 12s 4d.

From our Eastern exchanges we gather that, notwithstanding the present ease in the money market, there is a very uneasy feeling among bankers and intelligent business men, who have had so severe a lesson given them by the course of the markets for the past two or three years from the stringency in money, that they are acting with extreme caution, and the spirit of speculation is nearly extinguished in Wall street. The Independent deems that the one important fact in connection with our finances is the announcement from the Treasury Department that the greenbacks are now reduced to $356,000,000, the amount in circulation before the extra issue was made last October, and that it is the intention of Secretary Richardson not to increase them unless some great emergency should demand it. No greater emergency is likely to happen than the condition of affairs which existed for nearly six months, when the scarcity of money was so great that call loans ranged from ½ to ½ per cent. a day for many weeks in succession. It may be counted upon as a certainty that the same thing will happen again in the fall, when the necessary preparations are made for moving the crops. With such a certainty before them, it staggers the business men of the country in hand to make all necessary preparations for resisting the pressure to come upon them, and to wait patiently until Congress can pass some measure for their relief. In the meanwhile, money is just now easy enough, and is likely to remain so for a month or so longer. The banks are discounting readily for their customers, and call loans are made at 5 to 6 per cent., while first-class business paper finds a ready sale outside of the banks at 8 to 10 per cent., but there is still a good deal of paper, not exactly gilt edged, which is bought up for the banks at 12 to 15 per cent per annum.

Shipping Intelligence.

The Orellanme, from San Francisco, with a large passenger list and about 400 tons of freight, arrived at seven o'clock this morning. She is announced to sail next Monday at 6 P. M.

The W H Meyer is lying at Flanders' wharf, ready to receive cargo.

Miscellaneous.

The Reporter of this week says the aggregate value of canned salmon exported during the present season approximates $120,000.

We are creditably informed that a bank will be established in this city having a capital of $1,000,000. It is the intention, so we are informed, of the institution to make loans upon real estate as well as discount commercial paper.

Puget Sound lumber, in San Francisco, has recently fallen in price, and is down low—lower than for years past. By the cargo, to dealers, rough lumber is selling at $12 50@16 per thousand feet, and for dressed, $24 50@$25 50. Prices on the Sound as yet remain unchanged.

There are five vessels at the Hastings Mills, viz.: Singapore, Hoverdale, Helson, Maitland and Maria Christine. At Moody's Mill there are two—the Sophie D and Wm. Fisher. The Sophie D. is loaded.

Shipping Intelligence

BY TELEGRAPH.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Arrived—Gold Hunter, Coos Bay.

Sailed—Marmion, Port Madison; Ivanhoe, Coos Bay.

Markets.

BY TELEGRAPH

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Flour—Very quiet and weak; $5 75@6 remains firm.

Wheat—In the absence of export demand and advices in freight rates have with a small amount of business naturally dull, had a depressing effect, and exporters talk $1 40@1 50 for buyers' option, 700 sks choice sold at $1 52½, the first consignment of new arrived to-day, and sold at $1 55.

Barley—Feed very dull at $1 12½@1 20; brewing, $1 25@1 30.

Oats—500 sks Oregon, $1 50@1 60; California quoted at $1 75@2 00; all Omaha have gone into second hands. There is an order here for 500 tons for Australia, for which $1 82½ is offered.

Hay—$11@15; three cargoes sold yesterday at $11@13 and $15 50.

Feed—Bran $22@22 per ton.

Potatoes—Market easy; various descriptions of new, $1 25@1 75.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—There are but few buyers in the market at present, and there being no vessels in port to load, the great amount of anxiety is manifested to secure large lots. Shippers and speculators are buying, though not very extensively, at $1 50 ¾ cental. We have no additional facts to report concerning the project for running for the next crop. The promise of a good yield is bright as ever.

FLOUR—The stocks in the hands of dealers and agents here are not large; business is quiet. Best brand of extra quotable at $5 75 bbl; good country brands, $4 75@5; fine, $4; superfine, $3 75. Business is inactive.

OATS—The market is well supplied and the demand is light. Choice are selling 50 cents ₰ bushel, sacks included. But little otherwise to remain are likely to take place before harvest.

BARLEY—But few lots are coming to hand, which are required for local consumption. We quote $1 for feed.

FEED—Shorts, middlings, etc., are well supplied at $25 per ton. Bran is still held at $19@20 with quiring demand.

HAY—Common quality of timothy commands $14 per ton; fair, $16@18; choice, $20@22.

POTATOES—But very few lots have been in the market, mostly selling at 40 cents per bushel, all are in store, the dealers desiring to be the last handed, some few have been offered at 45 cents per bushel.

ONIONS—None of the last year's crop in the market.

BACON—We quote good country cured sides at 10@12 cents per pound; shoulders, 8@9; hams, 12@13. Fancy brands of sugar cured command an advance on these rates. We are prepared to deliver at dealers' premises contracts with jobbing and retail merchants.

LARD—There is a fair demand for pure; quotable at our quotations, 10@11 cents per pound in kegs and 11½@12½ in tins. The supply has slightly fallen off.

BUTTER—The supply continues in excess of the demand, and if we except fresh dairy for table use, which is made under contract and delivered at regular intervals, we are unable to obtain quotations above 20 cents per pound. In the common manner of putting it up, it will not command even that low figure.

CHEESE—Oregon made cheese of good quality in job lots at 13@15 cents per pound, and California made in the market at the same figures.

POULTRY—We quote chickens such as choice lots of hens at $4 per dozen, common lots of old $3 50@3 75; spring $3.

EGGS—We have again to report a glutted market and dull sales, dealers only paying 14 cents per dozen.

HIDES—The market is weaker and no more than 14@14½ cents per pound is offered for dry, 7 cents for green salted. If hides are full of holes such as are made by the grub insect, shippers will decline to purchase except at a reduction of 4@5 cents per pound.

WOOL—Inquiry and observation show that but very small lots are yet coming to hand, and we are satisfied that growers are holding for better rates. Dealers here still claim that ruling prices elsewhere justify no advance on 20 cents per pound. We hear that 22½ cents are being given by buyers in the interior.
